We are proud to announce the release of the Comic Book & Audiobook: “My Monsters”

The ACT-INCLUSIVE comic book narrates the story of Mia, a girl with disabilities, and the difficulties she faces every day. No one around her could imagine what she is going through until one day Leo finds her personal notebook and explores her thoughts. The comic book is a fun way to raise awareness and learn how people with disabilities feel. It is a tool to promote inclusive communication and education in the school environment among students. The comic book and its audiobook, with voice storytelling, are available in English, Greek, Spanish, Slovenian, French, Hungarian and Galician.

The Manual will consist of a series of training modules covering topics like [insert 3 examples of topics] to be able to work together in the development of more inclusive schools.
- The development and publishing of the Toolbox with examples of non-formal practices on Inclusive Education. Among other, it will include game-based learning activities (e.g., roleplay, theatre-inspired plays, board games etc.) that could be used by school teachers, psychologists, trainers and Inclusive Education experts. The resources collected will be referred to different education levels from early childhood to vocational education.
- The implementation of workshops about inclusive education in local schools, in all project countries. Each country will implement 4 workshops based on the project materials already developed. Following the workshops, there will be national and local events in all project countries to promote the project results.
