2. Introduction

Dignity, non-discrimination and equality are values enshrined in all major international human rights conventions, and in European Union (EU) treaties, legislation, and policy. The United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities is the first treaty that was adopted not only by all the EU Member States but by the EU itself and, together with the United Nation Convention on the Rights of the Child is a catalysts for change on how rights should be enjoyed and how services can be provided to facilitate their full access. Social welfare structures are thus increasingly called upon to adapt and set up new and innovative systems to support adults and children in need.

This Action Plan was developed in the framework of the technical support on the deinstitutionalisation (DI) process in Greece aiming at supporting the Greek government and stakeholders in planning an effective DI process. This project is carried out with funding by the European Union via the Structural Reform Support Programme and in co-operation with the European Commission's Directorate-General for Structural Reform Support. Its first component sets the objective of completing the Strategy, a Roadmap and an Action Plan for DI in Greece. The Strategy is aimed at developing a solid framework of social care support systems, so that children adults and elderly with various support needs can be fully included in society and participate to society, allowing them to enjoy their fundamental rights.

It addresses specifically the needs of the following target groups: children, children with disabilities, adults with disabilities and elderly; and sets a number of priorities and subsequent strategic objectives for the target groups of the DI reform: children and children with disabilities, adults with disabilities, and elderly persons.

The structure of the Action Plan is based on the one of the DI Strategy; for each of the strategic objectives, the Plan defines:

- Tasks (actions needed to achieve the objective)
  - Indicators (showing how to measure the actions' success)
  - Time Frame (the time period needed to complete the tasks)
  - Responsible authority
  - Collaboration with other stakeholders
  - Financial resources allocated (source of funding).

The Plan was drafted in collaboration with MoLSA and with the consultation of key stakeholders representing target groups.

6. Conclusions

This Action Plan is one of the three key documents of the reform for deinstitutionalisation in Greece, and it should be read together with the DI Strategy and Roadmap, that have been developed under this project with the inputs of the Greek authorities and the collaboration and support of several stakeholders and representatives of civil society.

While the DI Strategy sets out political priorities and key objectives, the Action Plan orientates practical actions towards the accomplishment of the Strategy’s objectives, provides indicators to measure impact, and suggests which funding can be used to make it happen. The monitoring framework, an additional deliverable developed through the technical support to the DI process in Greece, is based on this Action Plan and provides detailed indication that will support public authorities and civil society in assessing the impact of the implementation of the Strategy. The Action Plan is thus an important tool to both orientate and implement this ambitious and necessary policy process. However, a real positive difference in the quality of life of individuals will only be possible with a holistic framework including policies, funding and attitudes converging to produce these changes. A successful transition towards independent living and inclusion in the community of persons with support needs will require joint efforts, partnership and commitment of public authorities, of the sectors involved in social care and of many other actors in society.
